Why Do We do What We Do?

Presenter: Nancy Thompson, MS, LMHP

All of us who work with children chose this profession out of a sincere desire to help, provide and protect for helpless and needy children. What we didn't know was what working with those children and families would provide for us. This is an appreciative look at the many unsung moments of a career that involves getting inside the lives and minds of children and their families as we pay tribute to one who has shown a special commitment to this work.
